Our Mission is to apply our professional capabilities with a holistic approach for the happiness of clients through values and social commitment.

About MaGC

MaGC (formerly NCRCL) is a management consulting company formed in 1999. MaGC has written its success story and created a niche for itself in the world of consultancy. We have a team of qualified and trained professionals who have rich experience in business advisory, corporate finance, public finance and policy, organizational structuring/restructuring, process advisory, and information technology. We have successfully completed assignments for clients across different sectors, namely, Government, Industry, Education sector, and Not-for-Profits.

MaGC is an associate of McMillan Woods Global; a global network of accounting and professional advisory firms. MaGC has long-standing associations with specialists and expert organizations from niche professional domains. This enables us to offer comprehensive solutions to our clients' diverse business problems.

The strength of MaGC is that we don't have a marketing department from the time we started. Our clients do the marketing for us!

Approach

MaGC has a unique approach to service delivery. The MaGC approach relies on proprietary tools, continuous client feedback and research as the main inputs for delivering high quality, value-added solutions to client problems.

Professional Values enable 'technical' delivery of appropriate services without any compromise.

Ethical Values are enablers for being sincere and not compromising on morals for any material or personal benefits.

Human Values ensure professionalism without harming human beings- their feelings, creativity, and freedom.

Spiritual Values, the highest of all values, elevates an individual to such an extent that there is no difference between the individual and the work.

MaGC Proprietary Tools

3PT®

The 3PT framework is an in-house tool developed by MaGC. This tool brings together four different but interrelated dimensions, namely, Policy, Process, People and Technology. For any reform initiative to succeed, these dimensions need to be addressed.

- The Policy dimension focuses on the governing legislation, policies, and guidelines which set the basic governing environment in which an organization functions.
- The Process dimension addresses how policies are translated into specific actions at the operational level with adequate controls.
- The People dimension addresses the manpower and skillset requirements to implement the policies and operate the processes.
- The Technology dimension addresses the need for process automation and effective implementation of policies using technology.

LAMP™

The Layered Approach to Process Mapping is a tool for documenting processes in four layers, namely Process, Document, Authority, and Reporting layer. Business process documentation created using this tool has been found to be very effective in streamlining processes and in introducing technology for process automation.

ATA®

The Accountability-Transparency-Actionability model establishes the linkages between the three elements and provides insights into weaknesses and issues in relation to accountability. It helps in looking at governance reforms from the perspective of the 'demand side of accountability'.

AEM®

The Accounting Entry Matrix is a tabular representation of all possible accounting entries that arise in the course of day to day accounting in an organization. The AEM® identifies different possible transactions and for each transaction provides the type of accounting entry, account heads to be debited/credited, supporting voucher, primary books of account and other such details.
